

in this issue

what's new.....	1
spotlight.....	2
solutions	3
other resources	3
events.....	3
contact us.....	3
coming soon.....	3

take notice

Workforce3One.org lets you search for case studies and other solutions to common workforce challenges. Read more on page 3.

E-mail your feedback and comments to info@CareerOneStop.org.

what's new

New scholarships added to CareerOneStop's Scholarship Search

You can now search more than 6,000 scholarships including awards available for students by gender, race, ethnicity, and religion; veterans or military members; employees of specific companies; members of certain unions or other associations, and many more.

Visit www.CareerOneStop.org/ScholarshipSearch to get started.

Search for One-Stop Career Centers across state boundaries

You can now locate One-Stop Affiliate and Comprehensive Centers in nearby states. From www.ServiceLocator.org, click "Advanced Search" under One-Stop Career Centers. Then enter a ZIP code, select a distance for your search and check "Find Centers across state boundaries."

Find resources for workers affected by the Gulf of Mexico oil spill

Visit CareerOneStop's Deepwater Horizon Response website at www.CareerOneStop.org/DHR for quick access to a range of employment and related resources for individuals affected by the oil spill and clean-up activities in the Gulf of Mexico.

spotlight

Introducing mySkillsmyFuture.org

mySkills myFuture, a new website from CareerOneStop and the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration, helps laid-off workers and other career changers find and explore new career options. Users enter the name of a current or previous job and view a list of careers that require similar skills and work experience. From there, they can explore career, education, and job opportunities.

Read more on page 2.

spotlight

Introducing mySkillsmyFuture.org

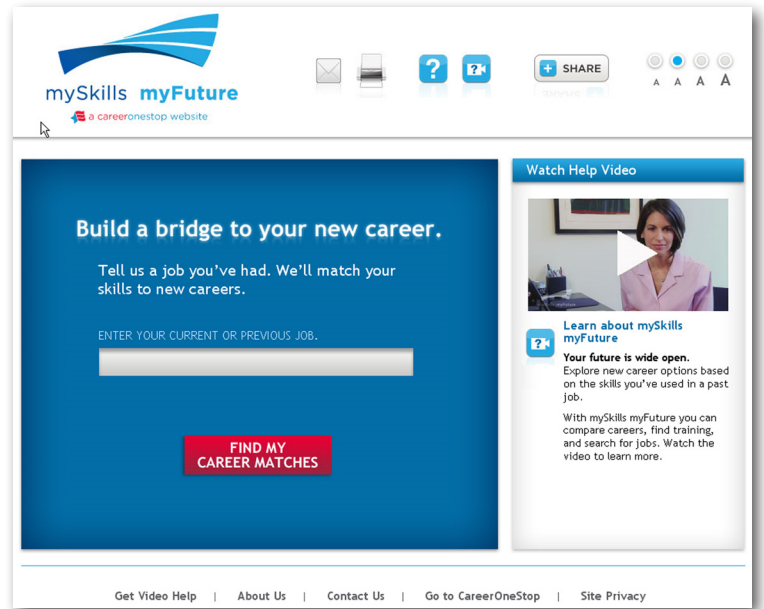

Visit www.mySkillsmyFuture.org to find out how laid-off workers can plan new career paths based on the skills and experiences they've gained in past jobs.

Identify New Career Options

- Enter a past job and get a list of similar careers
- Learn more about careers that may require skills used in a past job
- Find descriptions, salary information, and more

Learn About Workplace Skills

- Identify transferable skills that move well from one occupation to another
- View a side-by-side chart of likely skill gaps from one occupation to another

Find Training Opportunities

- Link directly to short-term training, community colleges, and other post-secondary schools
- Find career-specific details about credentials including certifications, licenses, and apprenticeships

View and Apply for Open Jobs

- Link directly to job postings from a national database
- Search for jobs by state or ZIP Code

mySkills myFuture also includes an integrated help system with page-specific instructions and videos. mySkills myFuture is based on data from the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Information Network (O*NET).

events

Check out free webinars, podcasts, and courses at:

www.Workforce3One.org

- AHA! Allied Health Access: How to Develop Programs for Youth in Allied Health Careers
- Effective Partnerships between the Public Workforce System and Libraries
- Registered Apprenticeship and Green: Building the New Economy

solutions

Resources for laid-off census workers

CareerOneStop's Census Worker ReEmployment site offers employment resources for former 2010 census employees. Workers who were laid off from any of the 16 common census worker jobs can find new careers that require similar skills to their census jobs. From there they can learn about salaries, typical training requirements, and job growth projections for those related careers. The site also provides information and links to resources about filing for unemployment insurance, job searching, finding and paying for training, and education opportunities, and much more.

Visit www.CareerOneStop.org/ReEmployment/Census.

other resources

Competency Model Clearinghouse: Two New Models and Several New Features

An updated version of the Advanced Manufacturing Model and a new model for Geospatial Technology are now available on the CMC. A new tutorial, designed to introduce the CMC, is also available. Accessible from the CMC Home Page, it explains how to navigate the CMC and use its major features. The Users Showcase features two new case summaries and the CMC's first podcast, an interview with the Executive Director of the Bio-1 workforce development partnership about how the organization is using the Bioscience Model.

contact us

Subscribe to the quarterly newsletter, Connections, at (www.CareerOneStop.org/Newsroom/Newsroom.asp).

Please share your feedback with us or ask to be removed from the email list by contacting:

CareerOneStop

E-mail: info@CareerOneStop.org

Toll Free: 1-877-348-0502

TTY: 1-877-348-0501

coming soon

Look for updates to CareerOneStop's Worker ReEmployment portal in Fall 2010. Visit www.CareerOneStop.org/ReEmployment.